

HSV122L : Supportive Communication Skills

This course provides an overview of theory, process, and the practice of primary interpersonal communication skills. Students are assisted in developing skills to supportively communicate with a variety of people in a range of environments.

Credits 3

Lab Hours 0

Class Hours 3