

HSV128L : Individual Assessment and Planning

In this course we address the question of how human potential can be recognized and enhanced. To answer this question, we will critically examine the perspectives and tools that are commonly used. Our focus will be to build on strengths and develop ways of supporting continued growth and personal goals of people who choose to participate in human services.

Credits 3

Lab Hours 0

Class Hours 3