

CIS216L : Advanced Programming

Students in this course will continue their education programming focused on the object-oriented languages. Language may change for this course, but concepts related to developing functional, secure, proficient, and professional code will be covered. A functional project will cap off this course.

Credits 4

Lab Hours 2

Class Hours 3