

CIS275L : Object-Oriented Programming - C++

This course offers a study of the features of C++. Focus will be on the principles of software design and development specific to the object-oriented approach including classes, objects, inheritance, and error handling.

Credits 3

Lab Hours 2

Class Hours 2

Prerequisites

CIS140L or equivalent